

The map displays the Lake Superior watershed boundary in black. A network of blue lines represents streams. Sampling locations are marked with red symbols: solid red circles of varying sizes (with the largest circle in the lower right) and open squares. A legend in the top left corner shows a red circle next to the text "Lohmaier 136". A small blue-shaded area is located at the bottom of the map, representing a specific geographic feature.